"Why my motherland, Bashkortostan, is valuable for me?"

I think that many people at least once in their lives find themselves thinking about why their motherland is important for them. It is interesting question and as for me, my motherland is the Republic of Bashkortostan, situated in Russia, And ofcourse it is very valuable for me.

First of all, it is obvious that people value their native country because it is the place where their mother gave birth to them, and where they saw the world for the first time. So do I. I was born in Bashkortostan, I spend my early childhood in the capital city Ufa and continue living here. So I feel deep connection with my motherland, it feels like it raised me and I want to protect it.

In addition, Bashkortostan, which is ~~fam~~ widely famous for its honey, also a region with beautiful and fascinating landscapes, including caves, mountains, meadows, rivers and forests. It has got leads of natural resources. Also, I like learning about great cultural traditions of Bashkortostan.

All in all, my motherland is valuable for me. For many reasons I am proud of my region and it takes a big place in my heart because it is my home.
