WRITING

I think that now computer games are the big and important part of our life. A lot of people, student mostly, spend a giant part of their free time playing computer games. In some countries it is becoming a real problem, like in 52 China, and government is trying to fix the situation. In my opinion computer-games can't be better than life, because you won't get such interesting and useful experience and emotions when you play a computer game. When you are playing you understand that it not's real and the result doesn't matter, ~~and it doesn't matter will you lose or not~~. But real life gives sometimes gives you no chance to lose and you do everything to reach the result you want.
