Nowadays a lot of people enjoy travelling and seeing sites. However, ~~some~~ of them do not know whether they should read about historical sites before sightseeing or not.

In my opinion, one should read about historical sites before sightseeing. ~~It~~ If a person knows some facts about the place, it will be more interesting for him or her to see the site. Another also, reading about historical sites makes one more educated. Moreover, for learning about historical sites ~~helps a person~~ helps a person to be more interested in an interesting person. If someone knows some facts about places of the world, he or she will always have something to say in any conversation.

However, some people might say that one should not read ~~about~~ about historical sites before ~~sightseeing~~ sightseeing. They say that it is not necessary to know any facts about the place to enjoy its beauty. Also,

~~these~~ these people prove their opinion using the fact that when travelling and sightseeing one should not learn. They believe that travelling is only having fun and relaxing. I do not agree with this opinion because people ~~do not~~ do not only see the beauty of the place, but also to learn more about its culture, history to become more educated. In conclusion, I think that everyone should read about historical sites before sightseeing. It helps one to become more educated and makes seeing sites more interesting.
