ANSWER SHEET

Most people are concerned about advantages of living in a big city. It is very important to think about all one can earn before moving in a city. You need to think know what opportunities you will get and what things you will learn to tolerate with.

Firstly, we can see that 26% of respondents chose to live in a city because of better opportunities for work and study. Many young students<sup>are</sup> moving to another cities for better opportunities because they want to be someone important in the future. It is better if he or she makes right choice early. Of course, students can change their choice but the earlier one makes their choice the more experience they will get.

Secondly, the number of respondents who chose big city for better facilities for sports and art education is pretty small in comparison to the number of respondents who chose living in a city for better opportunities for work and study. Such big difference is proving that one do not need moving to another city if he or she wants to have big success in sport or art.

The problem that can arise with living in a city is air pollution. It is a significant issue for anyone, it is does not matter if they are adults or children. The solution I would give is to spend more time in parks and to buy something that can recycle air in your home.

In conclusion I would say that life in a big city is always about getting new experiences and big opportunities. One have more choice and can be anyone they want. In the future.
