ANSWER SHEET

Nowadays, most people prefer living in cities rather than in any other place. I'm doing a project on the advances of living in the city and I have found some data on the subject - the results of the opinion polls.

36% of respondents answered that the biggest advantage of living in a city is better opportunities for work and study, which ~~isn't~~ isn't surprising, since getting a good education and having a high-paying job play one of the most significant roles in people's lives. As much as 26% answered that having all the modern conveniences is the main advantage of the <sup>100</sup> cities, which isn't untrue, because the cities usually have higher population than villages, meaning it'll make more sense to add conveniences there.

As we can see on the table, only 7% picked better facilities for sports and art education as the most significant advantage of city life. It's the least <sup>100</sup> chosen option, and I think it's because sports and art aren't ~~pla~~ don't play an important role in most people's lives, but is rather something more narrow-ranged.

But living in a city can have its' downsides. The city air is usually more polluted because of high number of cars and factories. It can <sup>100</sup> be solved by using more ecologically safe fuel for cars, for example, electricity, and adding more air filters to the factories.

In conclusion, I think life in the city does, in fact, has many opportunities, conveniences and better infrastructure, and even if ~~it~~ there's some problems, living there definitely has more advantages than disadvantages.
